As the Treasure Valley's only 24/7 shelter for teens, we are here, day or night, with a nurturing environment for youth who have run away, are homeless, or are victims of abuse, neglect, or trauma. Hays House also offers drop-in services for young people in need of a hot shower, a warm meal, or a safe place to land for a few hours.

Hays House

Safety. Support. Shelter.

“Home” is not always a safe place for Idaho’s youth

Hays House offers youth a stable and supportive place to heal. Kids at Hays House are given the opportunity to learn new ways of coping with challenges

Hays House offers skilled counselors and caring staff to help while we help youth find their way forward. Our support services include:

- Life skill classes
- Individual, group, and family counseling from master-level clinician
- Community-based recreation and volunteer opportunities
- Accredited academic program for grades 9-12 with GED instruction and testing
- Equine Therapy and horsemanship
- Respite care options

Help is here

When kids have nowhere to go, Idaho Youth Ranch Hays House offers safety, shelter, and support for homeless and runaway youth 9-17. Kids at Hays House enjoy nutritious, family-style meals; clothing; transportation to and from school; and a warm bed. If you know a young person who needs a safe place, we'll be here with the support and structure they can count on.

Idaho Youth Ranch Hays House is a Safe Place partner. If you are in crisis or need immediate help, look for the Safe Place sign at local businesses, schools, or fire stations to get connected with Idaho Youth Ranch Hays House.
